A STATE IN SHAME

Every true Virginian will bow his head in shame at the disgrace John Hughes Curtis, Norfolk intermediary in the Lindbergh case, has brought upon this commonwealth by his ghoulish confession that his efforts were all a fraud.
Not in many generations has a Virginian so disgraced his state. We can recall no Virginian who has sinned more against the public conscience.
The many victims of Lindbergh made to Virginia in other years and his friendship here with such men as Nelson, Byrd, entitled him to better treatment from the Old Dominion.

The least that Virginia can do to atone for this shame is to prosecute to the fullest extent of the law Virginia's Public Enemy Number One—John Hughes Curtis of Norfolk.

CAPITAL "D" FOR US

Our esteemed contemporaries, the Lynchburg newspapers of Senator Carter Glass, are not ranked with such great dailies as the New York Times, Kansas City Star, Atlanta Constitution, Manchester Guardian, etc., for their intellectual depth and style. However, they have one grammatical practice in which this newspaper does not concur: namely, the use of a small "d" for "and" and "the" for "democratic" and "Republican" parties. To quote merely one authority, Lomer and Ashmun's "Study and Practice of Writing English" says: "The name of a political party, religious or social organization should begin with a capital." This writer is no cognizant of any grammar giving authority for de-capitalizing "Democratic" and "Republican." And, for sentimental reasons, the glamorous parties of the donkey and the elephant merit more lenient consideration from Senator Glass' copy-writers.

NOT THE REMEDY

This newspaper does not look with favor upon the proposal of certain Democratic and progressive leaders in Congress for a five billion dollar bond issue for a "prosperity building and expansion drive" by the government to "restore business of the nation." No doubt such a move would stimulate conditions and bring a partial if not complete recovery for awhile, but it cannot be a permanent remedy. It is not true that present conditions are largely due to the huge debts of governments of the world—the "hang-over" of costs of war, intergovernmental loans. Why heap new burdens of taxation upon future generations? If Uncle Sam floats a five billion "prosperity loan", somebody, somebody will have to repay that loan. The remedy will be more along the lines of peacetime normalcy, rather than wartime boom. As Senator Ferguson recently said at Buckingham, "What we went through was abnormal times, these are normal times and we've got to adjust ourselves to them."

A later date may be arranged. In previous tournaments between the clubs each had won one, the match yesterday being scheduled as a play-off.
